My great grandmother
Christann Wehan married Henry Weaver, a tailor, who made a set of bedchests for each of his sons. They built the Bennett Bowman buildings at Reddick, which adjoined the Wehan property, now owned by Paul Beller. They built the buildings on the west side of Reddick and went to Reddick. They lived on the John B. Haymaker place on Reddick and east of the Rehoboth Cathedral. Henry Weaver and Christann Acker had the following children:

Ada: who married John Bently

Amie: " remained single

Mary: "

Eude: " married Amanda Kipp

Frank: " married Amanda Repp, and was a miller by trade, operated the mill owned by Corny Trent (my home) and later the mill of New Riverbank.

Melo: who married Emma Eichelmann, was a machinist by trade, but became a leading farmer in Sherrill township.

Hettie: who married Jacob C. Weaver, a machinist who built threshers, horse Ferrier and fodder shakers (my grandparents)

Maxie: who remained single

Samuel: "

All the above are buried in Long Creek Reformed Church cemetery.
Jacob C. Weaver and Betsey Weaver had the following children:

- Maurice married Mary Little
- Emma married Jacob Deaver
- Clyde

and after her death married Susan Eishleman

who had no children.

Christina married Ray Eishleman

(Both Clyde Weaver and Ray Eishleman were Reform Monroeville subscribers)

V. Ray Eishleman and Christina Weaver

had the following children:

- William J. Eishleman
- Paul D. Eishleman died in childhood
- Esther W. Eishleman

Dear Dad,

Enclosed you will find a copy of Solomon Kachek's letter, which Grandaddy Weaver used to speak.

Solomon Kachek was married to Catherine Eshleman, a first cousin of your grandfather Christian Eshleman's father.

His Solomon Kachek's children are first cousins of Christian Eshleman.

Can you tell me what the Eshleman incident was which Solomon Kachek mentions.

Please take good care of this pamphlet as it was entrusted to me in good faith.

Solomon Kachek lived on the Jacob Miller farm just south of Longenecker and after this trouble moved to Mechanicsport. He and his wife's family are buried along the fence upon entering the cemetery at Longenecker.

The large monument of which we often spoke belongs to a brother of Catherine Eshleman, the wife of Solomon Kachek. Catherine was a daughter of Jacob Eshleman, a brother of Lameled who was the father of old Aunt and grandfather Christian.

Yours Truly,

Wilmer Eshleman

God hath not promised
Skies always blue,
Flower-strewn pathways
All our lives through;
God hath not promised
Suh without rain,
Joy without sorrow,
Peace without pain.
But God hath promised
Strength for the day,
Rest for the labor,
Light for the way.
Grace for the trials,
Help from above,
Unfailing sympathy
Undying love . . .
