Dear Uncle,

I take the liberty of writing of my love to your love. I have received your letter that you wrote to your son, Elam, and it gave us great pleasure to learn that you and all your relations are blessed in health and prosperity, and I can let you know that your son as well as all the rest of your friends and relations in this neighborhood are all well and happy. Some time this winter Elam asked me if we would want him to stay with us any longer than till spring. I told him I did not know whether we would want him and it was most likely that his parents would like to see him return home again, but now we would be glad if he would stay another year or two with us, and he is also agreed to do so. I request you give your consent to it now if you may. I will let him go as soon as possible. The reason then is that he can get company to go and if you want to let him stay with us I will give him wages so that he and you will be satisfied. But a boy of his age and education can't expect to do a great deal more than keep himself, but he's a good boy and I can give him some wages besides. Setting your need not be approved of your son that he will get into bad habits. Even among we are in this I don't believe that he took a sheet of Christmas paper at he never did. Although I never forbid him particular to not do it, he keeps these commandments of his own accord and he is also beginning to grow. He has not worked with two good deal this winter and he don't make any company with any bad boys except Henry Monger's boys and it is very pleasant that he goes from home except he is sent on business. He has improved himself in writing so that he can read books and make out bills tolerable well. Now I believe I have wrote all I wanted to tell you about your son and I wish you to give me answer as soon as you hear made up your mind about it. Your obedient friend, Joseph Allyger

Mr. Christian Monger
The winter is now nearly over but still there is some snow on the ground yet. But all the snowing we had this year, in the beginning of January only a few days and a few days last week from Tuesday the 23rd March we had the deepest snow this Winter it was 18 to 24 inches deep, but it was all gone again in a few days and it snowed a good deal since but the ground is too warm and it soon melted away. I have no time to write more for that time but my respects to all your family and George and Adam and their wives.

Mr Christian H. Wenger
